The alley has also been a heated subject for property owners appearing before the City Council at its last two meetings. Owen seeks to deed the property for an alley to the city so that he may have undisputed access to his business. The council was presented a petition with property owners objecting to the proposal. A hearing on the zoning complaint is scheduled in Police Court July 30.

Test Pact Signing Is Set

Work Done On Drafting Of Treaty

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union, Britain and the United States apparently completed work today on a treaty banning nuclear tests in the air, outer space and under water. They may initial it Wednesday.

All the experts walked out of the Spiridonovka Palace in mid-afternoon and were reported to have completed their work on the treaty.

The delegation chiefs—U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman, Lord Hailsham of Britain and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko—lingered a while to discuss other matters on which the Russians are seeking action at this time.

These include primarily a non-aggression agreement between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Communist Warsaw Pact powers. There were strong indications that even this hurdle had been surmounted.

U.S., British and Soviet negotiators worked overtime Monday to prepare the test ban accord for initialing this week. Only a few words reportedly remained to be agreed upon.

Unless Khrushchev insists on a package deal, the three powers should complete the test ban treaty today or Wednesday, Western sources said. The chief U.S. negotiator, W. Averell Harriman, has no authority to negotiate a non-aggression pact.

President Kennedy was reported considering an attempt to drum up congressional support for the test ban agreement by sending leading members of Congress to Moscow for the signing.

The unpolluted ban on nuclear tests in the atmosphere, in space and under water must win Senate approval by at least a two-thirds majority if it is to become binding on the United States.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger declined comment on the reported plan to send a congressional delegation to Moscow. But Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa, ranking Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he heard of the plan some time ago. He said he didn't think the trip was necessary.

Harriman, Britain's Lord Hailsham, and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko met alone for an extra hour Monday, making their session the longest since negotiations began here July 15.

It was understood they discussed Khrushchev's proposals for a nonaggression pact between the NATO allies and East European Communist States and for international inspections on the ground to guard against surprise attacks.

A communique said only that "further progress" was made on the test ban treaty and "exchanges of views also continued on other matters of mutual interest."

Periodically for three weeks Khrushchev has linked the non-aggression pact to the test ban treaty, but never in terms of an ironbound package deal.

Khrushchev and Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar, who is visiting Moscow, issued a joint statement calling for the signing of a nonaggression treaty simultaneously with the test ban treaty. But again it was not clear whether Khrushchev was insisting on a package deal.

Although opposed to a formal nonaggression treaty, Kennedy has been reported willing to compromise with a Soviet-American pledge not to try to change European boundaries by force.

Even such a pledge would have to be preceded by consultations with other NATO powers. West Germany is sure to reject it if it implies recognition of East Germany.

Commandos Readied

New Ouster Move On Castro In Mill

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—New exile thrusts against Fidel Castro appeared in the making today as invasion veterans and commandos prepared to move to Central American bases.

The development came as the U.S. government remained adamant in its stand barring assaults from American territory.

Dr. Manuel Artime was reported in Nicaragua, jumping off place for the disastrous 1961 Cuba invasion which he led. He was reported conferring with Nicaraguan President Rene Schick and ex-President Luis Somoza, both outspoken foes of Fidel Castro.

Artime, secretary general of Revolutionary Recovery Movement, one of the largest anti-Castro groups here, said before his Miami departure, "We are leaving the United States to establish a base in Central America."

"In much less than one year we'll be fighting inside Cuba," added the 34-year-old physician-revolutionary who once fought the Fulgencio Batista regime alongside Castro.

Currently training with the U.S. Army in Ft. Benning, Ga., and expected back in Miami soon are Jose and Roberto San Roman and Ernesto Oliva, military commanders of the Bay of Pigs invasion. There are persistent reports among exile leaders that they will join the Artime movement.

able to the President's proposal announced Monday.

Representatives of the five operating unions still are considering the position they will take on the President's plan.

Democratic congressional leaders, in advance of the railroad executives' action, talked the situation over with Kennedy and reported afterward that the prospects for his plan look good.

In talking with newsmen after their weekly White House breakfast, however, the party chiefs steered clear of any predictions that Congress will complete action before 12:01 a.m. Tuesday.

That is the hour at which the carriers have announced they will put controversial new manpower-cutting work rules into effect.

The noncommittal attitude of the Congress leaders on that point strongly indicated that the administration still faces the job of achieving some sort of agreed delay while Congress does its work.

The unions of on-train workers say they will strike the minute the rules are applied.

Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said every effort will be made in the House for "as speedy action as possible" on the presidential plan to refer the whole dispute over what the railroads call "featherbedding" to the Interstate Commerce Commission for binding judgment that would apply for at least two years.

No Ordinance On Abusive Phone Talk

City Attorney John C. McCloskey today advised police officers not to issue warrants on complaints of persons disturbing the peace by use of abusive language over the telephone.

McCloskey told police there is no city ordinance regulating such cases.

The city attorney's action was prompted by the case of Betty Perkins, 421 East Third, who was charged with disturbing the peace by using loud and profane language over the telephone on complaint of Lorene Perkins. The case was dismissed Tuesday morning in Police Court.

There have been previous convictions in Police Court on such charges, however. Some months ago a Sedalia man was given a suspended fine on a charge of cursing a police sergeant over the telephone.

South Africa Boycott

He made the statement Monday in an interview with the official East German news agency ADN.

Alliance Snag By 'Facists'

Socialist Party Rules Discourage Egypt's Nasser

CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser says Egypt, Iraq and Syria cannot unite as long as the Ba'ath Socialist party rules Syria.

Denouncing the Syrian regime as fascist, Nasser declared Monday night: "There cannot possibly be any alliance with fascism based on deception and treason. We want democratic unity, not the unity of a Ba'athist prison."

Iraq also has a Ba'athist government, but Nasser apparently left the door open for cooperation with it. He and the Syrian Ba'athists have been at odds since the short-lived union of Egypt and Syria of 1958-61.

The three nations agreed in April to form a new United Arab Republic on Sept. 17 with Nasser as transitional president. But Nasser's plans to submerge the Syrian Ba'athists in his own one-party system were torpedoed when they purged his supporters from positions of power in the Syrian army and government.

The Syrian regime last Thursday quelled a coup attempt by Nasser supporters and launched a roundup of pro-Nasser elements. At least 27 rebels have been executed.

Nasser spoke to about 200,000 Egyptians jammed into Cairo's Gumburria Square on the eve of the 11th anniversary of the revolution. Civic leaders are just too

Nasser said the unity agreement no longer is binding "so far as the (Syrian) Ba'athist fascist government is concerned." But he said he still considers it binding on the Syrian people. He added that his attack was directed at the party leadership, not at the "good elements who remain in the party."

Eight Year Sentence To Bobby Hall

Robert M. (Bobby) Hall, 33, 1300 East 21st, entered a plea of guilty in Circuit Court Monday morning to a charge of felonious assault and was sentenced to eight years in prison by Judge Frank Hayes.

Hall was charged in connection with an incident at 803 East Tenth early the morning of July 6 in which Mrs. Patricia Simmons, of that address, was wounded in the hip by a blast fired from a 12-gauge shotgun wielded by Hall.

Police said Mrs. Simmons returned to her home and found Hall attacking a teen-age babysitter who was employed by Mrs. Simmons. Hall chased Mrs. Simmons and fired the shotgun blast as she dashed through a door. Mrs. Simmons has recovered from the wound.

Hall had been held in the Pettis County jail in lieu of a $7,500 bond since he was arrested. He waived a preliminary hearing in Magistrate Court on July 8 and Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz at that time said Hall had agreed to enter a guilty plea in Circuit Court.

Hall was taken to Jefferson City to the state prison about 1:30 p.m. today by Deputy Sheriff Jack Couts.

The eight-year term won't be Hall's first visit to a prison, but it will be his longest. April 2, 1952 he was sentenced to two years on a charge of burglary and larceny. Jan. 14, 1954, he was again sentenced to two years on a charge of attempted burglary.

Probe On Sugar In Gas Tanks

Reward Offered By Contractor For a Conviction

The investigation into the alleged sabotage of seven trucks owned by Management Systems Constructors, Inc., a subsidiary of the ITT Kellogg firm, on July 4, at Marshall Junction, is continuing, according to Steve Rimmer, Saline County sheriff.

Rimmer said the sheriff's office has arranged several lie detector tests and has questioned several individuals, but has not yet arrived at a decision as to who placed what is believed to have been sugar in the gas tanks of the trucks.

Management Systems Constructors has offered a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who committed the criminal acts.

Rimmer said the firm rented the building formerly known as the Wheel Inn, at the junction of Highway 40 and Highway 65, as a base for the crews laying cable for the ITT Kellogg firm, which is installing the cable system for the Minuteman missile complex in this area.

On July 3, the crew of cable workers arrived with 11 vehicles belonging to the firm, and parked the vehicles after coming off work. A company directive issued earlier required the crews to take off July 4 and work July 5th and 6th—Friday and Saturday. Two of the vehicles were taken off the lot by company representatives, leaving nine for use by the cable splicers Friday and Saturday.

When the vehicles were placed in use Friday and Saturday, it was found that a white substance, later determined to be sugar, had been placed in the gasoline tanks of the trucks. After being used it was found that seven of the nine vehicles were damaged to an estimated $15,000 to $20,000.

The FBI has entered the investigation, but the progress results of this investigation are not available.

Rimmer related a similar instance in Saline County several weeks ago, when a young man reported he had found a white substance on the bumper of his car, near the filler cap of the gas tank. Investigation showed this white substance was sugar.

Fire Destroys One Home And Damages One

A vacant frame house at 417 East Harvey burned about 12 midnight Monday and caused $500 damage to the Joe Buso residence next door at 415 East Harvey.

City firemen responded to the alarm at 11:47 p. m., but found the vacant dwelling well in flames. Firemen used one hose line to douse the blaze and prevent further damage to the Buso home.

Windows, the roof and siding on the Buso home were damaged from the intense heat and flames of the fire next door.

Firemen said the cause of the fire was undetermined. The house is reportedly owned by the Marquess estate. Loss was set at $700 to the house.

City Firefighters Lose State Fair Job

The Sedalia fire department has learned indirectly that it won't be providing fire protection at the Missouri State Fair this year and Fire Chief Emmett Vaught has called a meeting for 7 a.m. Wednesday to discuss the switch with department personnel.

Chief Vaught said Fire Captain Willis Jabas learned of the fair's plans while attending a firefighters school Friday in Columbia.

W. H. Ritzenthaler, secretary of the fair, said the Missouri Association of Volunteer Firefighters will provide fire protection on the grounds for the annual fair which runs Aug. 17 through 25 this year.

Chief Vaught and City Councilman Walter Jesse, head of the council fire department committee, met Monday afternoon in Mayor L. L. Studer's office to discuss the fair's plans.

Fire protection on the fairgrounds has been provided in the past by the Sedalia department and $1,600 was budgeted this year to again provide the service.

The switch was apparently brought about by a disagreement over the price charged the fair by the city.

Mayor Studer said prior to 1962 the city charged the fair $600 for the service. In 1962 the price was hiked to $800 by the city.

Chief Vaught, however, explained the total cost of maintaining the service was $1,600 for the city—the amount budgeted again this year.

Five men are maintained on each shift on the fairgrounds during fair week. Providing the service has cost the city $1,000 in past years when the charge to the fair was $600 and it cost the city $800 in 1962 when the price was increased.

Studer said he was told by Ritzenthaler that the volunteer

Problems Face Nudist Convention

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Normally, Mayor Arthur L. Selland of Fresno welcomes a chance to speak before a convention. This time he demurs.

"I'm no prude," says the mayor, "but I honestly don't think I could do it. Anyway, that's in the country. Why don't they try the supervisors?"

"Well," said Sloan P. McCormick, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, "I'd have to say I have no plans to attend. Anyway, that's (Supervisor Norman S.) Foley's district. Why don't they try him?"

"Could I welcome them in absentia?" asked Foley.

Chairman of the convention, Howard Lane, commented: "We have run into his kind of problem before. Civic leaders are just too sensitive. It appears the convention will have to go on without them."

But as Lane pointed out, the annual meeting of the Western Sunbathing Association never has been honored by the presence of civic leaders.

Lane said: "It seems they're never completely capable of getting into the swing of things. You know, always telling you to keep your shirt on."

This year's fleshy frolic will open Friday at the Calypso Grove nudist camp, north of Clovis. More than 1,000 delegates from California, Arizona, Nevada, Utah and New Mexico will attend.

Lane said he had thought of asking the Fresno Convention Bureau to help.

"But I suppose that's out too," he said. "One of the agency's principal functions during a convention is to have pretty young women fill out name cards and pin them on delegates. This could be a painful procedure."

Expectant Mother Dies In Cab Crash

MANILA, Philippines (AP)—A taxicab rushing an expectant mother to a hospital collided with a bus Monday.

The cab was badly damaged, but the driver went on to the hospital.

When he arrived, Mrs. Gregoria Juegana was dead. But she had given birth to a healthy, 6-pound boy.

DIM VIEW—Sedalia's fire chief Emmett "Potts" Vaught immediately took a dim view of a switch in plans for fire protection at the 1963 Missouri State Fair.

Call Girl Lists Lovers At Hearing

LONDON (AP)—Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies, 18, testified as a vice trial witness today that former actor Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and Viscount Astor had been among her lovers.

But the blonde call girl declared the man on trial, Dr. Stephen T. Ward, never got any money out of it.

Ward, 50, a society osteopath and artist, is charged with living on the immoral earnings of a stable of prostitutes.

"I hope he is acquitted," Mandy said.

Asked why she brought in the name of Fairbanks, she responded: "Because I do not like him."

Fairbanks, 53, is the son of the late silent film star. He himself made 75 movies and is a close friend of the British royal family.

Once a motion picture producer, Fairbanks now is the director or officer of 17 corporations dealing with affairs ranging from tools to hotels.

Bi-Racial Panel To Hold First Meet Saturday

Mayor L. L. Studer's recently appointed Bi-Racial Committee on Human Relations will hold its first meeting at 10 a.m. Saturday in the mayor's office.

Studer said the purpose of the meeting is to organize the committee, select one of the eight members as a chairman and to discuss any other matters that may come before the group.

On the committee are the Rev. J. E. Gillum, Dr. A. R. Maddox, Herbert Jones, Oscar Lawson, the Rev. W. E. Lusk, Jim Reed and Alvin Heynen. Mayor Studer is an ex-officio member of the committee.

When the committee was named on July 9 Studer said its power would be limited to recommendations to the City Council on solutions to apparent problems.

Panel Studies Yule Fixtures In 'Heat Wave'

When the weather is the hottest that is when the Christmas decorations committee gets together to pick out decorations for the downtown streets for the coming holiday season, which they know comes faster than people think when they are trying to get cooled off in mid-July. The meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce office Tuesday morning, with Bob Cain, Neil Chapman, and Phil Lonien, along with Sam Boyle, executive manager of the Chamber, and Mrs. Vivian Warren, office manager and treasurer.

Bridge Club Benefit Play On Saturday

Sedalia will be one of the over 300 sites for a simultaneous duplicate bridge tournament being held all over the United States Saturday, July 27. The local tournament will be held at the Masonic Temple auditorium, starting at 1 p. m.

The Sedalia Bridge Club, under the direction of Mrs. John W. Hubbell, Jr., is sponsoring the local competition as a part of the third National Wide Charity Game under the guidance of the American Contract Bridge League. All bridge enthusiasts in the central Missouri area are encouraged to enter the local tournament. This can be done by either contacting Mrs. Hubbell at TA 6-5104 or voluntarily reporting to the Masonic Temple shortly before 1 p. m. Saturday.

The proceeds of all the tournaments being held in the United States will be presented to United Cerebral Palsy and the American Cancer Society. A small entry fee is charged in order to provide the donation.

Local entrants are not required to have played duplicate bridge, nor is it necessary that they have been active in the Sedalia Bridge Club program. Over 24,000 bridge participants entered the simultaneous tournaments last year, at which time $47,000 was raised for charity. All told during the year, over $200,000 was contributed by the American Contract Bridge League to charitable organizations.

In connection with the local game Saturday, Mrs. Hubbell has received pre-dealt hands under seal which will be used in the local tournament Saturday. These hands have been studied by bridge experts and analyzed, which will eventually be revealed to the players. The same hands will also be given Saturday to experts entered in the National Duplicate Tournament being held in Los Angeles. Thousands of players, including those participating in Sedalia, will be competing with the experts.

A first place trophy will be given each to the couple having the highest score in the Sedalia tournament. Other prizes will be awarded to other winners here. It is possible for a local couple to win the national competition, it being noted two housewives in Montana topped the 24,000 participants in 1962.

According to Mrs. Hubbell, if a local person desires to play Saturday and does not have a partner, one will be provided at the tournament site.

Crockett was issued a summons charging him with careless driving.

Involved in the accident was an eastbound 1960 Oldsmobile driven by Charles E. Crockett, 32, 916 South Lamine.

According to Trooper Richard Joos, who investigated, the right front of the car struck the south-west corner of the bridge, then went on across the bridge, which is 196 feet long, striking the south side three times, and finally coming to rest down an eight foot embankment about 100 feet beyond the east end of the bridge.

Crockett was issued a summons charging him with careless driving.

Accidents

Silas Tevis, Sedalia Rest Home, was treated at Bothwell Hospital Tuesday morning for a laceration over the right eyebrow. He was treated by Dr. K. L. Holdren, then released.

Kevin Mark Harris, 7, 624 East 11th, was treated at Bothwell Hospital Monday afternoon for an injury on the back of the head. He was treated by Dr. A. L. Lowe, then released.

Tom Porter, Green Ridge, was treated at Bothwell Hospital Monday afternoon for an injured left foot. The report indicates he received the injury when a tree fell on his foot while working with a rights-of-way crew for the ITT Kellogg Corp. He was treated by Dr. John Lamy, then released.

Paul Essex, 3601 South Grand, was treated at Bothwell Hospital about noon Monday for an injured finger. He received the injury when his right hand was caught between a wrench and a dirt bank. He was treated by Dr. A. J. Campbell, then released.

Clarence W. Simpson, 611 West Sixth, was treated at Bothwell Hospital Monday afternoon for an injured right thumb. The thumb was hit by a pipe, while the injured man was working at his job for the American Bridge Co. He was treated by Dr. D. C. Proctor, then released.

Dairy and Auto Strike Set In KC For Wednesday

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Dairy industry workers and automobile mechanics in the Kansas City area have voted to strike Wednesday.

Proposed contracts were rejected Monday night by both groups. Both proposals had been approved by union negotiating teams.

Federal mediators said further talks in both disputes are expected before strikes are called.

Leo Baker, business manager of Teamsters Local 207, said truck drivers and inside dairy plant workers have been working under terms of their old contract which expired June 1.

Machinists' Lodge 778 and Teamsters Locals 552 and 498 represent about 1,000 mechanics in 100 automobile repair shops, where they currently receive a flat rate of $2.30 an hour.

Union officials said their strike was delayed until Wednesday so mechanics could finish jobs they are working on.

Fire

firefighters group was providing the protection free of charge and that firefighting equipment had also been obtained free.

Contacted at noon today by telephone in the office of Don Thomason, head of the state Department of Agriculture in Jefferson City, Ritzenthaler would not discuss details of the fire protection program.

Chief Vaught said he talked by telephone this morning with Ritzenthaler and at that time had informed him he would set the meeting for Wednesday to discuss the change with the fire department members.

Vaught acknowledged that he and many of the firemen were upset when they learned indirectly of the change in plans. Vaught said, however, that he would not know if the department would take any action until the issue had been presented to the members.

A rumor circulated that the firefighters local union planned to picket the volunteer group at the fairgrounds. Vaught said, however, that he did not think the department would take such action.

Mayor Studer said he is opposed to any picketing.

The Democrat-Capital learned Vaught had given a letter announcing his retirement to Ralph Dedrick, city clerk, to type. Dedrick said the letter was not signed, however, and therefore is not considered formally submitted.

Potts told the newspaper he would probably withdraw the letter.

It was reported that the City Council's fire committee last year had told the fair the charge for fire protection would be raised to the full $1,600 in 1963. This action is not recorded in council minutes, however.

Mayor Studer said that Ritzenthaler had informed him it was too late to make a change in fire protection plans for this year. Studer said that Ritzenthaler indicated a willingness to discuss the issue further with the city.

Ritzenthaler said announcement that the volunteer group would provide fire protection was made some time ago in a general news release. The fire department, however, did not construe the announcement in that manner.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been married for 12 years and we have four nice children. We don't get along any better or any worse than most married people although I've made a real effort to avoid arguments and maintain a peaceful atmosphere in our home.

When my husband loses his temper, which is fairly often, he claps on his hat, slams the door behind him and goes off for a drive. He calls this "getting rid of his anger behind the wheel."

I'm on needles and pins until he gets home. It worries me sick. He says it's a lot better than keeping the anger bottled up, and certainly better than socking somebody—meaning me, I suppose.

Will you please say a word in your column about people who do this? My husband reads you faithfully. — CONCERNED CONNIE

Dear Connie: Hospitals and graveyards are full of people who took their anger out behind the wheel. The real tragedy is that they usually manage to drag innocent people along with them.

Studies made by the National Safety Council prove that hostile, anxiety-ridden, angry drivers are a menace to everyone on the road—including themselves.

Suggest that your husband hang a punching bag in the garage so he can take his anger out there safely.

Dear Ann Landers: If male viewers of scantily clad women are "sick, sick, sick" according to Ann Landers, then what do you have to say about women who wear sun suits when there's no sun, bikinis when they can't swim, shorter than short shorts for their grocery marketing, and capri pants that look as if they were put on with a spray gun?

Invariably the hussies who strut around in these provocative get-ups are the first ones to criticize a man for ogling.

Is there a word in your limited vocabulary to describe these characters? Or will my letter wind up on the floor?—THE INQUIRING SQUIRE

Dear Squire: Yes, I do have a word to describe these characters (in fact, I have two words). (1) Exhibitionist. (2) Teasers. And this is sick, sick, sick.

Dear Ann Landers: We have a 10-month-old baby who stays with my mother while I work. My husband's mother is jealous of the time my own mother spends with the baby so I have agreed to let her sit for me whenever we go out.

I am not the best housekeeper in the world, Ann, but I'm not the worst either. Yet every time we leave for an evening my mother-in-law mops the floors, waxes, polishes furniture, cleans silverware, rearranges cabinets and closets. She has even done the laundry.

This makes me furious. After all, it's MY house, not hers, and I don't want her snooping around taking over in my absence.

I've told my husband how I feel about this and he has warned me that if I open my mouth it will be my neck. Don't you agree that my mother-in-law is out of line, and that I have a right to tell her so?—SEEING RED

Dear Red: I'd say you've got mighty high-class worries, Toots. Your mother-in-law sounds like a jewel.

Since she seems to enjoy doing your housework I see no reason to deny her the pleasure. I agree with your husband that you should keep your lip zipped and open it only to say "Thank you."

Alertness on the Farms...

Emphasis on prevention of fires and falls is called for in the observance of Farm Safety Week in Missouri July 21 - 27.

Safety on the farm requires attention to more than those two hazards, however, in this age of mechanization. Farmers are just as vulnerable to automobile accidents as the city folks, maybe more.

So it is fitting at this time to call special attention to next week's safety campaign when a person considers that 101 fatal farm accidents were recorded in Missouri during 1962, an increase by the way, of 19 per cent over 1961. There were an additional 198 farm residents killed in traffic accidents, too. Did you know that tractor accidents accounted for 38 deaths on Missouri farms last year? And who would believe there were 15 deaths from drownings, 12 of which occurred to children under 14 years of age, or that this total was 200 per cent over the preceding year?

In the category of accidents resulting from falls statistics are not accurate but you can be sure Central Missouri farmers and their families are acquainted with the distressing results they have had from them. More elements exist to cause falls on farm properties than are realized. A farmer is his own maintenance man and requires the skills of many trades. A bit of oil or grease on a tractor step, a slip on loose straw while working in a loft, a loose or cracked ladder rung can lead to painful and expensive falls.

National Farm Safety Week is not a week in which to be more careful, then to be forgotten until next year. Instead it is a time to examine work habits, to compare methods with those proved effective in other industries, and to seek out better and safer ways to do the jobs.

Accident prevention is a year round job on the farm just as it is in the city. An official "week" is simply a reminder to take stock of the hazards and do something to minimize them now and in the future.

The World Today

To Avoid Compulsory Arbitration

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says his plan for settling the railroad dispute is intended to avoid compulsory arbitration. But the net effect in large measure could wind up being compulsory arbitration.

Nevertheless, an examination of the plan indicates it's a thought-out device for taking much of the steam out of the four-year long argument between the railroads and the unions.

Kennedy asked Congress Monday to pass a resolution giving the 11-man Interstate Commerce Commission authority to go over the whole dispute and give rulings which would stay in effect for two years after they were made.

The ICC's authority would last two years from the day Congress passed the resolution.

During that time—if the unions or railroads didn't like a ruling and wanted to strike or shut down—the ICC could get a federal court injunction forbidding such action.

Briefly this is the background before looking at what Kennedy proposed:

The railroads argue that, thanks to modern improvements, they could operate $600 million a year cheaper if they weren't saddled by thousands of jobs they consider unnecessary.

For example: diesel engines have almost completely replaced steam locomotives. The railroads say that while firemen were needed on the steam locomotives, they are unnecessary on the diesels.

So they want to eliminate about 35,000 firemen's jobs, about 10,000 right away, the rest over the years through retirement or death or quitting. In addition, they want to eliminate about 30,000 other jobs over a period of time.

A presidential commission and a presidential board went along with the idea of eliminating jobs. The Supreme Court upheld the right of the railroads to do the eliminating.

The unions not only refused to agree, they threatened a strike if the railroads started job-cutting. They refused to let some outsider—an arbitrator—give a ruling that would be binding on unions and railroads.

Congress, to prevent a strike, could compel the two sides to accept arbitration. This would be compulsory arbitration. That's a dirty word with American management and labor, and Congress doesn't like it, either.

Still, Kennedy and Congress do not want a crippling strike. So Kennedy, to prevent it, came up with the device he suggested Monday. If Congress approves, there can be no strike for at least two years.

But, while it is supposed to avoid compulsory arbitration, this is how it would work:

As soon as Congress approves the resolution, as it probably will in some form, the ICC would be empowered to act in the case. It would have this authority for two years. Its main task would revolve around manpower and jobs.

The two sides could file applications for rulings. Once the ICC gave a ruling, it would stay in effect two years.

This could happen: Right near the end of its two-year term the ICC might give a ruling which would have to stay in effect for two years afterward. This means the ruling would be in effect four years after Congress passed the resolution.

This seems far-fetched. Almost surely it won't happen but this will: As soon as the ICC is empowered to act, the railroads will dump all their job problems in ICC's lap to get action fast.

The ICC is supposed to act within 120 days—or as soon thereafter as possible—after getting a request for a ruling.

If the ICC decided a number of firemen's jobs should be eliminated, then those jobs would be eliminated for two years. But right here it would seem from what Kennedy said, the railroads might not be saving a lot of money.

From the way Kennedy phrased his message Monday it would appear that men whose jobs were abolished—or most of them—would be shifted to other jobs or retrained for others. The railroads would have to keep paying them for some time. So there wouldn't be big savings in a hurry.

Kennedy said, citing the opinion of the presidential commission and board: "No one would be thrown out on the street; and, while the railroads gradually modernized their operations, there would be little, if any, loss to individual employees."

It could be concluded from this suggestion that the ICC, right from the start, would not have a completely free hand in eliminating jobs.

At the same time an examination of Kennedy's message pretty clearly indicates the unions would have to accept the ICC's ruling since that commission could get a court injunction to prevent a strike.

At least the unions would have to accept the rulings for the two-year period after the ICC made them. In this sense the ICC rulings would be compulsory arbitration. What would happen after the ICC's two years of jurisdiction ended?

The unions and railroads would have to negotiate agreements. Supposedly, they'd have to be negotiating settlements all through the two years of ICC authority.

Then there's this: Suppose thousands of jobs had been eliminated by the ICC in that two-year time and men, if not fired, were moved into other jobs. At the end of the two years the unions wouldn't have much ground for striking against job eliminations that had been in effect two years.

All in all, this proposal would at least delay fireworks for two years.

We the Women

Check the Mirror, Girls

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Today's mail brought me an advertisement from a bank bearing the invitation, "Come as you are... bank from your car!"

And just to make sure that I and the other women the advertisement was mailed to understood what the bank meant by "come as you are," there was a cartoon showing a woman in hair curlers, surrounded by crying children, driving up to a banking window to make a deposit.

If there's one thing that business doesn't need to do, it's to encourage the American woman to "come as you are."

Suburban shopping centers are already made unsightly by all the "come as you are" customers roaming around in hair curlers, barefoot sandals, rumpled shorts and jeans, or any one of hundreds of other unattractive "come as you are" outfits that never should be worn in public.

Admittedly, the bank quoted didn't invite women to come inside "as you are," but to bank from their cars. But anyone ought to know, when a woman goes out in her car without bothering to dress appropriately, she is going to make more than one stop at a drive-in window.

Before she gets back home she will have stopped at a supermarket, a variety store—and perhaps in a restaurant for a quick lunch.

By the end of her trip she will have been seen by any number of persons—and if she is in hair curlers and her scrubbing clothes, her sloppy appearance will have perhaps offended many.

So let's not encourage housewives to "come as you are." What housewives need is to be encouraged to dress neatly and appropriately whenever they leave home. Too many who make a habit of running around town as

Baby's Means of Release Often Startles Mothers

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M. D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What is that pounding noise in the nursery? Most likely it is your infant going through a period of banging his head against the mattress or the headboard of his crib.

Apparently this bothers the mother more than it bothers the baby, because no report of concussion or brain damage from this source has been recorded. There are different theories as to why infants behave this way.

They usually start their head-banging in the second half of their first year and may be responsible to a need to express a feeling of rhythm. When they get older they will do this by clapping their hands or tapping their feet on the floor. Nothing to be alarmed about.

Another possibility is that they are tense or feel frustrated and are trying to unwind. One fact that would seem to support this theory is that head-banging is most often seen in a first infant who has just been presented with a brother or sister, and suddenly gets less of his mother's attention.

If this is true, head-banging would belong in the same category as thumb-sucking. A good treatment would be to give an extra helping of tender loving care several times a day until the habit is stopped.

It has also been suggested (not seriously) that these children bang their heads because it feels so good when they stop. In any case this is another of those habits for which the child should not be scolded or punished.

Do all you can to give your child a feeling of being loved and try to ignore the habit. The child will almost surely stop of his own accord before he is 4 and any effort to restrain him will only make him more tense.

The only precaution necessary is to make sure that there are no sharp corners in his crib against which he might injure his head. Of course, this should be done even if your baby is not a head-banger.

A closely related habit that is preferred by some infants is head-rolling. This habit is much less of a worry to most mothers. The child may roll his head rhythmically from side to side in his crib for hours and thus wear all the hair off the back of his head. This bald spot is only temporary and as soon as the child stops his head-rolling the hair comes in normally.

Q—My 4-year-old son had a concussion three weeks ago. Now he complains of his head aching. How long will this continue?

A—Headaches following such an injury are relatively common in adults but rare in children. Your doctor should make sure that there is no pressure on the brain from a small clot or broken blood vessel.

If there is no serious disease present there must be a psychological element in the headache. If you are inclined to be oversolicitous you may have asked him several times in the first few days after the accident whether his head hurt. Suggestion of this kind can be a powerful factor in producing the type of headache described. Even a 4-year-old is not above making a play for your sympathy and attention in this way.

On the other hand if you have been giving him flavored child-sized aspirin tablets he may be complaining of headache just to get some more of that candy. If this is the case you should stop giving him aspirin at once or switch to a quarter of an adult tablet. In any case you should reassure him that the headache will go away and then divert his mind to something of greater interest.

DEAR POLLY—Even nine-year-olds read the column. Quite a time ago, mine gave me this hint to send in and I forgot it until I read about the lady keeping adhesive bandages in her billfold. My son puts two or three of these bandages, in their protective paper covers, inside the band of his hat or cap when he starts to school. He said someone is always getting hurt on the school grounds and he has a bandage ready for such an emergency.

DEAR POLLY—During spring housecleaning, I decided to repaint my living room. Naturally the baseboards had to be painted but the floor is covered with wall-to-wall carpeting. My problem was how to do that part of the job without getting paint on the carpet. My husband took an old automobile license plate and bent the edge along the length of the plate to make a slight curve. As I painted, I held that firmly over the edge of the carpet next to the baseboard and then proceeded. It worked wonderfully. You do have to wipe the metal plate off each time it is moved but that was simple and I got the job done neatly. — MRS. H. G.

GIRLS—I would still put clean paper or a drop cloth over the carpet (between it and the license plate) as an extra precaution. — POLLY

Democrat Pick-ups

THE YOUNGSTER decided to make a little money so he got a small loom and began weaving pot holders which he has been selling. He took orders and made them and thought he was doing pretty fine. Then one woman ordered several. Up to this time they'd order not more than one or two and he did all right keeping the supply up to the demand, because he only went to one person at a time and when he had finished one order he would go to somebody else.

One day, as he was weaving on the last order, he commented: "I wish people wouldn't order so many."

"Why?" questioned one of his family.

"Because it keeps me working too hard," he replied.

Of course the pot-holders were probably not very urgent to the woman, but that was the way he liked to do business. When he took an order he wanted to deliver it as quickly as possible and he could rest a little between orders but when he had this number to get made, it kept him too busy, he didn't seem to have time for other important things, such as playing and swimming. Like the grown-ups, he has found that working can sure interfere with pleasure. — H. L.

Sedalians Are Hostesses At Luncheon In Dallas

Members of the Sedalia Business and Professional Women's Club who attended the convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club last week in Dallas, Texas, have returned home pleased with the success of the Missouri luncheon of which Mrs. Marjorie Garansson was chairman.

Mrs. Sue Keim, president of the local club, and Mrs. Vivian Warren were delegates with Mrs. Garansson, and Mrs. Bertha Welch and Mrs. Marguerite Scott, alternates.

Mrs. Garansson was assisted at the Missouri luncheon by Mrs. Keim, Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Welch. The state president, Dora Rowe, Lee's Summit, presided at the luncheon. A telegram from Governor John M. Dalton to the Missouri delegation was read at the luncheon which is for Missouri delegates, national officers and past national presidents, also, a special guest was Miss Helen G. Irwin, Des Moines, Ia., president of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

The Sedalia delegation was proud of the assortment of favors given them by Sedalia firms for the Missouri luncheon which included Missouri books from the Chamber of Commerce, memo pads from Bothwell Hotel, two pairs of shoes from Town and Country, one of which was won by Virginia Allen, of Michigan, incoming national president, and the other also to a national officer; foam glass pan scrapers from Pittsburgh Corning; lint brushes from Zephyr Manufacturing Co., key rings from Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., rain hats from Connor-Wagoner; pencils from Missouri Public Service; ice chests from Fichtel Sales, ash trays from Cook Paint and Varnish and cigarettes from L. & M. The Chamber also gave national officers Centennial ash trays.

Lee's Drug Store at Lee's Summit added to the favors small boxes of Stover's candy.

There were 1530 voting delegates at the convention, and representatives from the Federation present were from Virgin Islands, Hawaii, Alaska and Puerto Rico, and there was also a woman from India.

Mrs. Keim was one of the hostesses at a garden party and buffet supper held on Sunday.

So many husbands of members were present that the men decided to form an auxiliary, which they did. One of the husbands was from Sedalia, Ike L. Warren. Mrs. Welch also had with her at the convention her niece, Gail Rose. The main reason Mrs. Welch went to Dallas was to see a BPWC member she had met while visiting in the Virgin Islands, who had written her that she would be there as a delegate from the Virgin Islands and hoped she would be there, too.

Young Scouts Have Last Camp Session

The last session of Brownie and Intermediate Day Camp ended Friday with a pow-wow and flag ceremony at Camp Sakajawea.

The Indian theme, used this year, brought out many ideas on the program planned by the unit leaders. Activities enjoyed were lashing, archery, hiking, leather work, various crafts, dancing and singing. Three kinds of cooking practiced by the girls were stick cookery, one-pot meals and "coffee can stew."

Unit names: Busy Buzzards, Big Buffalos, and Apaches. Those units competed each day for a gaily painted Indian gong made by Mrs. Richard Roughton. The cleanest unit was awarded the gong and rang it, announcing lunch time.

Adults helping at camp this session were camp directors, Mrs. Harold Lane and Mrs. Robert S. Jenkins; business manager, Mrs. Robert Severide; unit leaders, Mrs. James Vincent, Mrs. Gerald King, Mrs. Richard Roughton, Mrs. McMillian, Mrs. Balke, Mrs. Goshen, Mrs. George Thompson, Mrs. Morris Brown, Mrs. Lee Deason, Mrs. Rick Fullerton, Mrs. Dale Heeren and Mrs. David Eisenstein.

Senior scouts at this session were Vicki (Twinkle Toes) Ray, Cynthia (Tiger Lily) Stauffer, Sandy Severide, Ann Murrell, Ann Sillers and Kathy Shaw.

Sue Brenner, Robert Eldenburg Are Wed June 23 in Potwin, Kan

The marriage of Miss Sue Brenner to Mr. Robert Eldenburg was solemnized at the Christian Church in Potwin, Kan., at two o'clock the afternoon of Sunday, June 23. The Rev. Gary Appleton, minister of the Potwin Methodist Church, officiated.

The bride is the foster-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brenner, rural Potwin, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eldenburg, Florence.

Two candelabra, entwined with yellow Shasta daisies, held tapers, which were lighted by Miss Denise Hendricks and Mr. Michael Slaymaker, cousins of the bride. Huge white baskets of yellow gladioli also enhanced the altar. Mrs. Richard Church, soloist, sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Joe Whitmore, who also played traditional wedding music.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over taffeta, fashioned with a scalloped portrait neckline, long lace sleeves, tapered to points over the wrists and a molded lace bodice. Her bouffant floor length skirt had a deep overskirt of tiny ruffles, which were interspersed with rhinestones matching the tiara which held her veil of imported illusion. She carried a white Bible, which was the gift of the bridegroom, and a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Sue Brenner, wearing a turquoise organza over taffeta gown, with a scoop neckline, bound in satin, with elbow length sleeves and tiny satin bows on a bell skirt, was her sister's only attendant. Her matching circular veil was caught with rosettes of iridescent braid and carried a bouquet of yellow Shasta daisies.

Attending the bridegroom, as best man, was his uncle, Mr. Donald Rages, Smithton.

Preceding the bride down the aisle was Miss Teresa Eldenburg, sister of the bridegroom, whose role as flower girl was signified with a large rosette headpiece, surrounded by a circular veil of tinted cerise, the same color of her dress. The skirt and bodice were covered with tiers of white lace, interspersed with tiny bows. She carried a basket of yellow Shasta daisies.

The mother of the bride wore a pink linen dress with white accessories. The mother of the bridegroom chose a pale blue knit-and-tuck with satin ensemble. Her accessories were bone colored. Both mothers' corsages were fashioned of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the community house. The bride's table, covered with brocade Irish linen, was centered with a four tiered wedding cake, which was decorated with pink roses and doves, and a miniature bridal couple. Entwining the cake were garlands of pink and white carnations.

Following the reception, the newlyweds left for a week's trip to Colorado. For traveling, the bride chose a light blue sheath dress with white accessories and a nosegay corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Potwin High School in 1963 and the bridegroom was graduated from Stover High School in 1958, later attending Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg.

The couple is now living at 444 Southwest Trail, Larned, Kan.

Open House At Diggings Next Sunday

The University of Missouri's Lyman Center for Archaeological Research, popularly known as "the diggings," will hold its fifth annual Open House all day Sunday, at the site 12 miles north of Marshall, in Van Meter State Park. The event is sponsored by the university, the Missouri State Park Board, and the Missouri Archaeological Society.

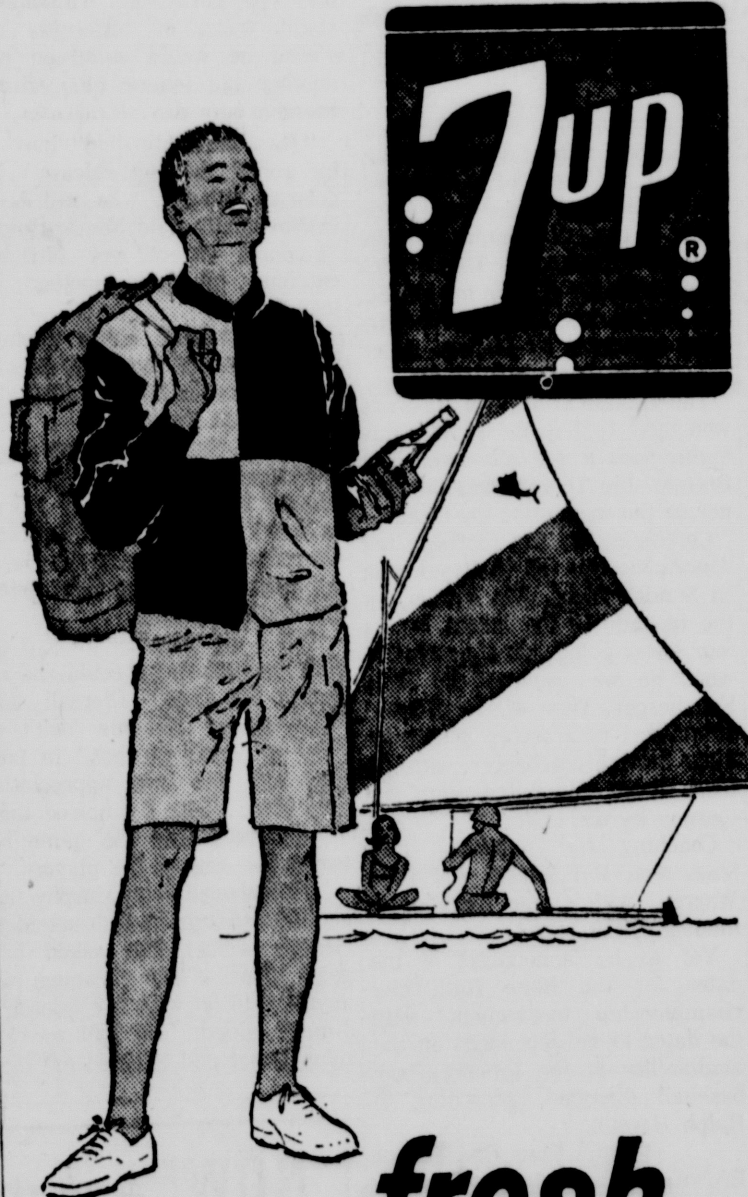

Excavations at the ancient village of the great Missouri Indian tribe have been progressed since June 11, by 10 students and two instructors of the archaeological field school.

An archaeological "first" — uncovering of the post-mold pattern and solid earth floor of a Missouri Indian house, the first ever discovered at this site — has been one result of the 1963 season. Interestingly, the 275 year old house remains correspond closely in shape with a full scale replica of an Indian house built at the Research Center as an exhibit before the actual find was made. The replica may be entered by several persons at one time and the visit may see many items here which belonged in the Missouri Indian household.

Twenty two exhibits in the free museum at the Center comprise basic introduction to the Indian story of the area. Here, the visitor may view exhibits on the life ways of the Missouri, Hopewell, and the ancient Ice Age man, all represented here. Exhibits of a more general nature, applying to a wider area, will also be seen. Free publications to supplement the exhibits are available here. The visitor may walk from the museum to the nearby wigwam replica where special demonstrations of Indian ways may be seen. Then a visit to the actual excavations, real highlight of the Open House, will complete the tour. Students will be available at each important feature as excavated to explain techniques and results and to answer visitor questions. Members of the Missouri Archaeological Society and interested local persons will act as guides. An important feature at the excavations, in addition to the Indian house, is a "bundle" burial of an adult Indian skeleton. This burial, in which the disassembled bones were placed in a small round pit, is in sharp contrast to the usual Missouri method of fully extended burial.

A special temporary exhibit of engraved catlinite (the sacred red pipestone) tablets of the Missouri tribe and their relatives the Ioway and Oto will be shown. These rare stones are thought to be related to the religious and ceremonial life of the Indians.

The event is open to the public, and the site may be reached from the south via highways 65, 41, and 122; from the north, east and west via highways 24 and 41. The short county road on which the site is located will be marked at its junction with state numbered routes.

Repeat Performance By Sonny Liston

Downs Floyd In 1st Round

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Sonny (The Big Bear) Liston annihilated Floyd Patterson for the second time in one explosive round Monday night and cleared the way for a big money title fight with gabby Cassius Clay in September.

This giant of a man, at 215½ pounds, 21 pounds heavier than the ex-champion, bombed Patterson to the deck three times enroute to the knockout in 2 minutes 10 seconds.

Clay Calls Monday Bout Elimination

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—"This," announced lippy Cassius Clay, "was not a heavyweight championship fight. It was just an elimination to see who's going to fight me."

Clay, the noisy, unbeaten contender from Louisville, made the remark after putting in an unexpected appearance at Sonny Liston's victory party Monday night, following the champion's one-round knockout of Floyd Patterson.

Clay said he showed up at the victory celebration "just to make him (Liston) mad."

He shouldered his way through the crowd to where Liston was sitting with some friends and told the massive champion: "You're just a sucker. My brother could have beaten Floyd Patterson."

Liston, in a rare burst of humor, invited:

"Come on over here and sit on my knee and finish your orange juice."

Some further words were exchanged and at one point Liston rose to his feet and assumed a mock fighting pose. Friends moved between them.

Clay stole much of the thunder from the fight even before it started.

Clay stepped into the ring while the announcer was introducing famous boxers who were at ringside. The fistic poet waved to the crowd and shook hands with Patterson.

Then he started for Liston with his hand out—but suddenly retreated in mock fear and bolted from the ring.

The crowd roared with laughter, but it didn't bring a smile to Liston's face.

After the knockout, Clay again dashed into the ring while part of the gallery chanted "We want Clay."

Somebody showed Clay a fake newspaper that the Liston camp had held aloft after the victory. It read: "Clay has a big lip that Sonny will zip."

In exaggerated anger, Clay ripped the paper to shreds, talking all the while.

Clay, well known as the Bard of boxing, showed some irritation at Liston's rhymed predictions of victory in their planned bout Sept. 30 in Philadelphia.

"If he keeps talking jive, I'll beat him in five," emitted Clay.

Fullbacks Score

MONTREAL (AP)—Fullbacks George Dixon and Don Clark each scored touchdowns Monday night to power the Montreal Alouettes to a 17-14 victory over the Edmonton Eskimos in an exhibition Canadian pro football game.

Johnny White, up from Houston of the American Football League, got two touchdowns for the Eskimos.

Sherman Meyer, President, Floyd Knerl, Secretary.

Sonny, 30, missed the course record over Floyd by four seconds—2 minutes 6 seconds at Chicago last September—but now has required 130 seconds to destroy Floyd, 28.

To the surprise of many, Patterson announced after the fight that he will not retire, that he wants to fight himself back into the title picture—and meet Liston a third time.

A crowd of 7,816 paid $286,180 to see the fast finish in the Convention Center, plus a nationwide audience viewing it through closed circuit.

Liston got the bores when he entered the ring, Patterson the cheers as the sympathetic underdog. Which prompted Sonny in his post fight remarks to say: "The public is not with me, I know, but they'll have to swing along until somebody comes to beat me."

Floyd said: "Yes, I feel that I disgraced myself. But I think I can do better and I hope to fight my way back and prove it."

Liston, pacing a step back and a step forward—even paced his way through the Star-Spangled Banner—was a picture of pent-up fury just before the bell.

The end was soon in sight. Sonny landed a straight jab, Patterson a mild left and then Floyd connected with the first of the only two good punches he landed, a left to the jaw.

Completely undrunk, Sonny closed with a flurry to the head and body and Patterson was dumped to the canvas. He staggered up at the count of two but took the mandatory 8-count.

There was a short clinch and Patterson brought a cheer from his supporters when he hit Sonny with a right to the jaw.

Sonny didn't blink an eye, and presently Floyd was down again. He was up at four, again getting the benefit of the 8-count.

Then came the finish as Sonny closed in with punches again to the body, and a right and a left hook to the chin.

Floyd was flipped over flat on his back. He rolled over and struggled to one knee at eight. Referee Harry Krause continued the final two counts and the thing was over.

Liston's manager, Jack Nilon, and the Clay group of managers from Louisville, have been negotiating for a fight. A date of Sept. 30 at Philadelphia has been pinpointed for what doubtless will be a tremendous money attraction.

Liston has now won 28 straight fights and scored 25 knockouts in his 36 bouts. His only loss was back in 1954 in an eight-rounder when he lost a decision, and got a broken jaw, from an obscure man named Marty Marshall of Detroit.

Elks and Ice Are Winners In Little League

Elks and Ice were the winners in the Little League "A" circuit Monday night while the "majors" all-stars took part in a tourney at Concordia.

In the first "A" game at Centennial Park, Elks defeated Rotary 11-3. Steven Gray was the winning pitcher for Elks, while Terry Sinn took credit for the pitching loss.

Kent Cordry pitched a no-hitter for Ice in the second "A" game, with Ice taking a 9-1 win from Adco. Cordry gave up two walks during the game. Tommy Brown was the hurler on the mound for Adco.

The "B" league game at Housel Park went an extra two innings, with Moose edging Rotary 7-6 in the sixth. The score had been tied 6-6 in the fourth, and remained knotted until the bottom of the sixth when Moose slipped one across. Wiser was the victor, while Paul Klover took the loss. Moose C's took an 8-7 victory in their game with Rotary at Housel Park. Don Vinson was the winning pitcher for Moose, with the Rotary "C" loss going to Charles Staley.

Fight Fans Riot When Gate Closes At TV Showing

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—About 600 fight fans, angered when told no standing room tickets would be sold for a televised screening of the Sonny Liston-Floyd Patterson heavyweight championship fight, rioted outside a local theater Monday night.

Fourteen carloads of policemen converged on the theater and broke up the crowd. No arrests were made and no injuries reported.

Theater officials announced before the fight started that all seats had been sold and no standing room tickets would be offered. Some in the crowd had been waiting by the box office several hours.

Terrifying Label Hooked On Liston

Clay Avoids Him At Introductions Before Big Fight

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Everyone is agreed on one thing. Sonny Liston, the heavyweight champion of the world, is a terrifying man.

He looks terrifying. He uses his big fists like clubs. Right now there doesn't appear to be anyone around who could even test him.

Floyd Patterson, who was knocked out for the second time in the first round of a fight against Liston, looked terrified, almost blind when he got up the third time just before the end Monday night.

Patterson denied that he was afraid.

"I was a little nervous," he said, but it wasn't convincing.

Even Cassius Clay went along with the horror act. When the brash young man who probably will fight Liston in Philadelphia in a match that could draw 50,000 entered the ring Monday night to be introduced, he first shook hands with Patterson, then looked across the ring at Liston and cringed in mock terror. He fled without greeting the champion.

Liston himself, big, unsmiling, his face grim and unmarked, did nothing to spread sweetness and light after the fight.

He was asked what he thought when the buzzer cleared the ring and the fight began.

"It's him and me."

It was a chilling thought.

The bores that greeted him when he came into the ring—how did they affect him?

"The public is not with me, I know, but they'll have to swing along until somebody comes to beat me."

There was only one surprise Monday night. Everyone had expected that if Patterson was promptly knocked out again he would retire from boxing, but he didn't.

"I feel I can make a better showing than I did tonight," said Patterson instead. "I want to prove it. I love boxing. If there was no money in it, I'd still be a fighter. Of course"—and he chuckled—"the money helps."

But I feel terrible. I feel disgraced. I hoped I could go home like a champion. I still want to—so I'll try again."

The talk around the ring after the fight was all centered on Clay. A lot of people would pay good money in the almost dead certainty that Liston would knock him out. Sept. 30 has been discussed as the date.

But Liston was contemptuous. "Who's Clay," he asked. "It would take me about a round and a half to catch him and a half round to knock him out."

Liston summed up the fight this way. The punch that started the end "was a left hook to the head"—one of many hammering blows Liston landed on Patterson's head.

"I hit him harder in the other fight," he went on. The last time he was coming in to me. This time he was fading away."

If Patterson is determined to go on with boxing there is some expert opinion that holds he should quit the game. Two former champions, Joe Louis and Rocky Marciano, think he should pack it in. That's the way it stands. Liston by common consent scares everyone to death. Clay could draw an enormous crowd against Liston just because he talks too much but no one seriously thinks he has a chance. Patterson has now been convincingly beaten twice.

Missed Like 6th Finger

Yanks Big Guns On Sidelines

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

As Los Angeles leadoff batter Albie Pearson stepped into the batter's box to face New York right-hander Ralph Terry Monday night, the Yankee Stadium message board flashed:

"Tresh back tonight, Mantle, Maris back soon."

Manager Bill Rigney of the Angels looked up from the steps of the visting dugout and snorted: "Yeah, they've really missed 'em. Like a sixth finger."

Incredible is the best way to describe the Yankees' performance with Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, their two biggest guns, on the sidelines.

With baseball's best outfield—the M and M boys and Tom Tresh—totally incapacitated, the Yankees pulled away to a seven-game lead to make a shambles of the American League pennant race.

Baseball's nearest thing to a monopoly widened its first place margin to 7½ games over second-place Chicago with an 8-4 triumph over the Angels in the only big league game played Monday.

Ralph Terry was tagged for a dozen hits but managed to hold the Angels at bay in all but two innings and was rewarded with his 10th victory to even his season's losses.

Tresh, back in action after missing several games because of a neck injury, celebrated with a home run and single in three official times at bat, driving in the first three Yankee runs.

It was the Yankees' fourth straight victory since they returned to Yankee Stadium Saturday. They have a fantastic home record of 32 victories against nine defeats. On the road they've won 27 and lost 25.

Considering the Yankees have 41 games left at home to only 30 on the road, the opposition's hopes of overtaking the flying Bombers is all but hopeless.

With Mantle and Maris back any day the Yankees might equal or surpass their own home record of 65-16 in 1961. Since June 5, the day Mantle suffered a broken left foot, the Yankees have won 32 and lost 16 for a 667 percentage. Since Maris joined Mickey on the sidelines July 6, the Yankees won 10 and lost 4 for 714.

One reason the Yankees have been able to more than double their first place margin during the absence of their one-two punch has been the hitting of their replacements.

Hector Lopez, the reserve left fielder, has hit .314 over the last two weeks, with four home runs and 10 runs batted in. John Blanchard, the reserve right fielder, has a .302 batting average with three of his four home runs during that span. Blanchard got his fourth homer Monday as the Yankees collected 10 hits against five Los Angeles pitchers, including Fred Newman, who was making his first major league start.

Bob Rosburg was the eleventh man in the standings and he became the alternate. Strong explained that in view of the fact that Casper has a hand injury that has kept him out of golf for months, it was felt advisable to name an alternate.

Casper, however, said he felt sure he would be fully recovered by the St. Paul Open Aug. 1 although he had to withdraw from this week's Western Open at Chicago since the hand had not healed sufficiently.

Palmer, Casper, Littler and Finsterwald were on the 1961 squad that beat the British to make the standings in this every-other-year competition read: United States 11, England 3.

Palmer said both teams would be in Atlanta Oct. 8 for three days of practice before the matches.

In KC Exhibition Game

Large Attendance Watches Cardinals Down the A's

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The largest crowd of the season turned out Monday night to watch the St. Louis Cardinals defeat the Athletics 4-3 in Kansas City in an exhibition game.

The game attracted 32,563 fans. George Altman's pinch single in the seventh scored two runs for the eastern Missouri entry in the National League and provided the winning margin.

The American League A's scored in the first inning on a double by Charley Lau.

Then, in the second, Carl Sawatski hit a two-run homer for the Cards. However, the St. Louis lead, like that of the A's proved of short duration.

Kansas City again took the lead in the bottom of the second on a single by Ken Harrelson and Chuck Essegian's home run.

Sixteen Cardinals got into the Area Fishermen Record Catches At Bull Shoals

Area fishermen in the Bull Shoals region who had successful catches came from Clinton and Marshall up to July 20, according to the Ozark Fisherman publication. Sedalia fishermen names were not noted in the weekly report.

Big Creek Area reports Jerry Vanderburg, Clinton, caught a five-pound, eight-ounce bass on a minnow while Hadley Vanderburg, caught a four-pounder on a jig and eel.

Pheno Wade, Marshall, had two reports out of Big Creek, a four-pound, four-ounce bass on a jig and eel, and a four-pounder on the same type of lure.

No Problem In Release For Piersall

NEW YORK (AP)—Jimmy Piersall, the sometimes perplexing and always personable center fielder, accepted his release by the New York Mets with only a slight trace of bitterness and vowed he would catch on with another big league club without losing a pay day.

"They certainly didn't hurt me by giving me my release," the colorful veteran, who will be 34 in November, said Monday night. "I don't expect any difficulty catching on with another big league club."

"I'm making some contacts now but under the rules no club can sign me before the three-day waiver rule expires."

Piersall said he had no grievance against Mets manager Casey Stengel but was hurt by stories in New York papers that indicated his release was due to his clowning activities on the field before and during games.

"All I did was try to help the club the best way I could and entertain the fans," Piersall said. "They never told me 'don't do this' or 'don't do that.' In fact, they told me how appreciative they were when I umpired their old timers game; the game between the sons of the players."

"I telephoned John Murphy (executive assistant to club president George Weiss) and asked him point blank if my clowning had anything to do with my release," Jimmy added. "He told me absolutely not and assured me they would give me 100 per cent recommendation to any club.

"Your salary (approximately $37,500) was too high and you just didn't do the job," Murphy told me," Piersall said.

Acquired from the Washington Senators on waivers earlier this season, Piersall batted only .193 in 40 games. He drove in 10 runs. That and a leg injury kept him on the bench the last two weeks.

Connie Mack League Ends Season's Play

The Connie Mack baseball season closed Sunday afternoon, with S and M Athletic Goods finishing first in the league, and Pepsi-Cola second.

The top batter in the league was Bob Nagel of the S and M squad, who hit .433 for the season.

Redwing Pest Control took a 1-0 forfeit win off Broadway Realty in the first of four scheduled games. Broadway was unable to field the necessary nine men.

VFW shutout Pepsi-Cola 3-0 in the five inning distance set for an official game due to the tight win, while Larry Ryan took the Pepsi pitching loss. Johnson allowed only one hit in the five innings, and Ryan gave up only two. Pepsi errors combined with two VFW hits allowed the three VFW runs to cross the plate in the first inning, after which Ryan pitched a shutout.

VFW scored again in the next S and M Athletic Goods with a 6-2 tally. Ronald Soanka was credited with the VFW win, while Bob Nagel absorbed the loss. The VFW runs came in the second on two walks and two hits, and in the fourth on two hit batters and an error by S and M.

The last game broke the tie between Redwing Pest Control and Pepsi-Cola for second place in the final league standings. In taking the win 2-0, Pepsi's Jim Welch allowed Redwing only one hit in the five innings of play. Mike Riley was the losing pitcher for Redwing.

The youngster, who wallows a tennis ball with the aggressiveness of an adult, has won about 30 trophies—about half for tennis and half for table tennis. At age 12, Chuck's only trophies were for table tennis.

Bobby started playing tennis when he was 10. He and Chuck had the same coach, Bill Price, when they started at the YMCA as table tennis players. Price, a former international player in the indoor table sport, is regarded as one of the top outdoor tennis coaches in the country.

"The record of his big brother has made no difference in Bobby's attitude and he hasn't been bothered by the fame Chuck has achieved."

Bobby agrees. "There's no needling by any of my opponents and it hasn't made a bit of difference in the atmosphere at matches or in my play. Naturally I'm Chuck's greatest rooster. But I've never played him."

The two resemble each other more than in looks. Bobby has displayed some outbursts of temper on the courts, but Price says: "Bobby seems to have controlled his temper during the past few months. He is concentrating."

The youngster's next big step is at Kalamazoo, Mich. for the nationals, where he will compete against boys 16 and under.

"I don't expect to do much in the nationals," he says. "But it ought to be good experience to be beaten by some good boys."

Kills Prowler In School

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A prowler was shot to death by a policeman in the attic of an abandoned high school building early today.

The man, a Negro about 50, was not identified.

About 20 minutes after the shooting, police found a teen-age Negro youth hiding under a stage on the second floor of the building.

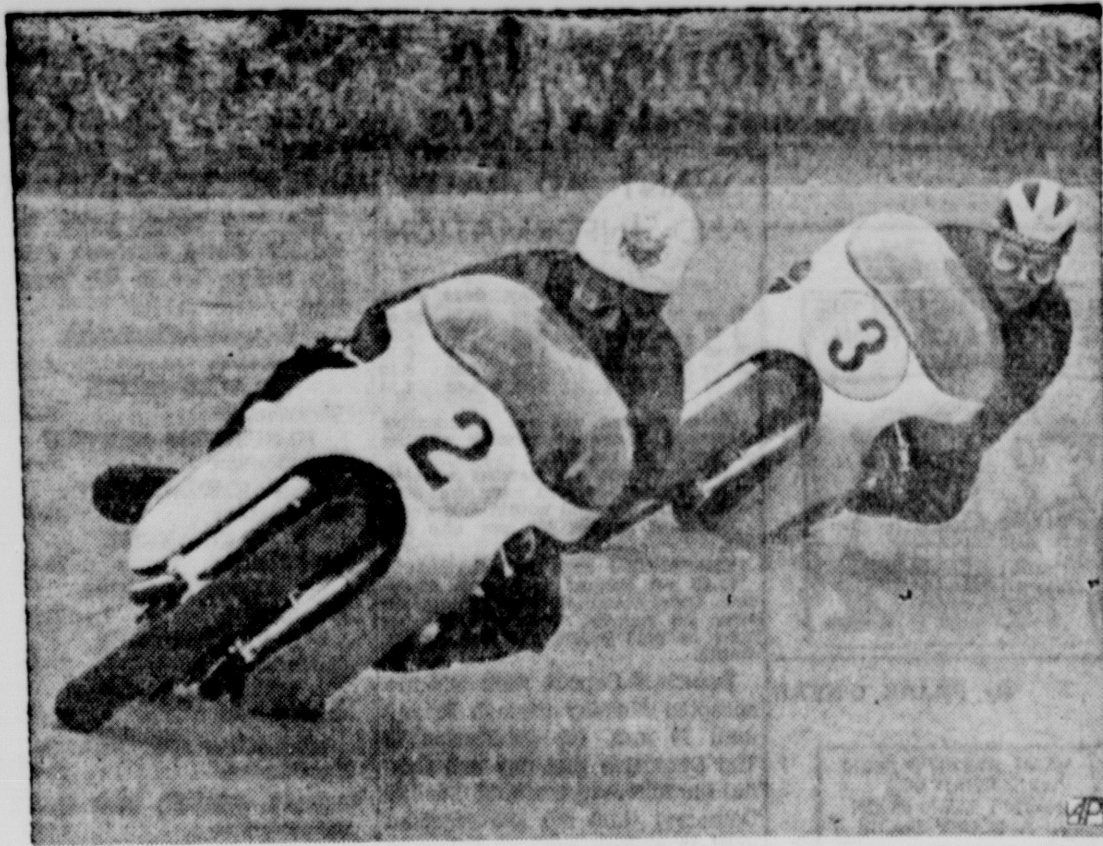

Police said the prowlers were prying copper sheathing off the roof and had more than 100 pounds ready to be lowered to the ground.

The man was shot by Cpl. William Davis, 26.

Davis and another officer, in separate cars, were sent to the former R. T. Coles vocational school (1835 Tracy Avenue) after a witness reported prowlers were on the roof.

Davis climbed the fire escape and police said the prowler hit him on the head with a flashlight as he entered the building through a skylight. The officer fired, shooting the man through the heart.

Less than a month ago, June 25, Davis shot and killed a 17-year-old Denver youth who had disarmed and handcuffed another policeman.

Each year a considerable number of students drop out of school before acquiring the education which would enable them to realize their full potential in life. Many of them drift into work which offers little in the way of advancement and swell the great army of untrained workers which largely makes up the group of unemployed.

At the same time the professions and other vocations which require educated people are crying for more students to meet the needs of a growing population.

There are many reasons why students drop out of school. Not the least of these is the simple fact that the student is not adapted visually for his studies.

Professional optometry with the co-operation of psychologists and physiologists has done much in recent years to find the answers to the problem of visually unadapted students. The inattentive, uninterested and rebellious student can often be transformed into one who is an ardent achiever by an understanding optometrist.

Parents of children who are not interested and not achieving in their studies owe it to the child to have a careful visual analysis made by a competent optometrist. The Missouri Optometric Association advises an annual examination for every child in order to be sure the student is visually prepared to do the assigned work.

Investigate Bad Check Cashing

CAIRO, Ill. (AP)—A man be- lieved to have cashed bogus checks in Hannibal, Mo., is being held in Cairo, pending an investi- gation of his check cashing activi- ties.

Police said Alford Dedakey, 29, who lists St. Louis and Atlanta among his "home towns," was arrested Saturday after two youths said he hired them to cash checks.

Dedakey has been charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Police said additional charges are likely to be filed.

The youths cashed two checks, both worth $68.80 in Cairo. The checks were signed J. Kenneth Brown, the same name used on bogus checks circulated recently in Hannibal.

Officers said they found 18 checks on Dedakey when he was arrested.

The checks were written on the Illinois Bank and Trust Co., in Chicago. The bank is nonexistent.

Hannibal police said a man answering Dedakey's description told 11 youths he employed to cash checks that he was making a survey to see how long it took to circulate the bills at the Fed- eral Reserve Bank in St. Louis. The youths, police said, cashed about $688 worth of checks, before they became suspicious.
